

Robin's Nest

CHILDRENS HOMES

During our recent visit to Agra, India in January 2006 we were thrilled to see the wonderful work that Pastor Harry Singh, his family and his church have been doing to build our Robin's Nest Children's Home and to see the children so happy.

Harry has a ministry in the slum areas of Agra (city of the Taj Mahal). He is very involved running the Robin's Nest for local orphans, a sewing school for young girls, a primary school as part of a slum school project along with pasturing his church.

We were able to have a meeting with the orphanage committee and discussed our future vision for Robin's Nest Children's Home. We were very impressed with their enthusiasm and dedication.

Many people assisted our visit by donating a variety of gifts to assist the orphans: "Wrap For Love" made and donated colourful Afghan blankets for the orphans; the ladies from Hunter Christian Church and students of Belmont Christian College also made beautiful quilts and blankets. These came in very handy as India was experiencing its coldest winter in 70 years during our visit this year.

Caring sponsors enable a destitute child like Manish to have a school uniform and clean drinking water at Pastor Harry's Christian primary school.

The children were happy to receive their "gifts of love".

Donors, including St. James United Church in Canada and Kings Church in Australia, raised enough funds to purchase:

- a water tank and installation ➡
- two clothes closets
- an electrical inverter and battery
- clothes, toys and books
- school supplies.
