

October 2009

The trusses go up on house 1!

Up she goes!

The roof is almost complete.
The foundation for the second house is in the foreground.

Andrew & Darryn looking at things from a different perspective.

Electrical wiring going in

Mark, Grahame, Wayne &
Harvey from Newcastle,
Australia, helping out with kitchen and laundry cupboards.

Standing on the front porch.

My time has really been taken up with the work that is happening at the RN property. Still so much to do! The roof is now practically complete. Most of the wiring has been done and plastering started.

It was great to have the guys come from Australia for a total of almost 5 weeks from when Darryn arrived and Grahame, Wayne, Harvey & Mark left. We all enjoyed having them around. They were an excellent help and great company.

Digging through rock to create a septic tank.

I'm not sure what the issue is where I live but we usually don't have running water. From time to time it might come to the outside tap. Apart from the last couple of days when we have received good rain (and we've had the large water containers placed strategically enough to catch water) we've been relying on the water donkey to bring us our water. This day must have been a particularly tough morning for the donkey for as soon as it arrived it sat itself down at our back door. Or maybe it realised where it was and knew we always take quite a bit of water.

The Robins enjoying a day on the building site with a kite.

Not so much wind but plenty of running power.

Brian, Haggai, Darryn & Jotham putting together an elastic propelled plane.

The Robins and a few extras performing a song .

Patience enjoying the sound of her own voice in a large water drum on the property

We went with the children to the building site one Sunday afternoon, just recently.

They really enjoyed themselves. They are so very excited about the new house and moving to the property.

The kite was a great delight. Each one having their turn at running with the kite mostly up and behind them - on occasions dragging behind them. The owl kite took a beating but has lived to see another day.

Sarah & Lois in their new dresses.

Grahame Byrnes, co-founder of RN from Australia,

Grahame with Grandma, Naomi & Susan

Thanks for your interest, love & support,

Jan Suffolk

"Working together with the Robins' Nest Team in Kenya, Australia and Canada."

Grahame & Robin Byrnes

To donate to help drive this project or to sponsor a child just contact us at www.robinsnestchildrenshomes.com Please find appropriate forms for Canada or Australia on web.

